SPIE Senior Members

Congratulations to our Members of distinction

SPIE Senior Member status is a mark of distinction that honors professionals for their significant experience, active engagement, and meaningful contributions to optics and photonics. This recognition not only elevates a Member's professional standing and credibility within the global community, but it also signals leadership and commitment to advancing the field. Earning Senior Member status is a prestigious milestone — accessible to both emerging and established professionals — that highlights dedication, achievement, and a growing influence within SPIE and the broader optics community.

Please view Senior Member nomination criteria before submitting a nomination.
